OBITURARY

Stanley R. Bell of Grahamsville passed away with his family by his side on Saturday, July 21, 2012 at Catskill Regional Medical Center. He was 77.

He was the son of the late John V. and AnnaMarie Wessles Bell, born on May 5, 1935 in Queens, NY.

Stanley proudly served his country in the United States Army during the Korean Conflict. He was an avid outdoorsman who loved nature, cutting down trees and fishing. He enjoyed riding his tractor but most importantly loved spending time with his family. He was a devoted husband, loving father and adoring grandfather and he will be missed by all who knew him.

He is survived by his wife of 49 years, Marilyn Bell; his children: AnnaMarie Bell, Edna Alice Scott and her husband, Dennis, Susan L. Claves, Loretta L. Engert and her husband, Chris, and Betty A. Bell; his grandchildren: Sarah, Cynthia, John, Alyssa, Amanda and Victoria; his greatgrandchildren: Cassandra, Chevy, William and Brody, his loyal canine companions, Barry and Fuzzy and a host of friends.

Funeral services were held Monday at the Colonial Memorial Funeral Home, Woodbourne, the Rev. Bob Kersten officiating. A graveside service was held on Tuesday at Grahamsville Rural Cemetery.

DONALD W. TERBUSH A VERY ACTIVE, BUSY, FAMILY AND COMMUNITY MAN

Donald Terbush of Grahamsville, Town of Neversink, Sullivan County, New York passed away July 16, 2012 at age 84. He was a very active, busy, family and community oriented man.

Donald's obituary is quite lengthy, but to those who know him, it is somehow incomplete. To even attempt to describe Don's life and way of life is as difficult as the writing of the Gettysburg Address. There is so much of significance to say, that it is best to just keep it short.

Donald, as a young man in his community seemed to be everywhere. In his later years, he was almost everywhere. Donald was both a joiner and, most important, a doer -In the Tri-Valley Lions (the Charter President in 1977), the Masons, and one of the organizers and a Charter member of the Grahamsville Volunteer Fire Department. Equally important was his reputation as the slow ball pitcher on the fire department soft ball team.

Donald was a consummate politician, who rarely if ever raised his voice. Donald started many meetings with a joke, thus confounding and disarming his audience. He was rumored to be a Democrat. He was a people person.

In Don's quiet and persistent way, he was a backbone and inspiration to our community and the County, and left his indelible mark. His corn cob pipe was usually puffing like a steam

Some individual's achievements are chronicled. Others don't have the time, nor see the need, nor necessity to be bothered with that. There are future needs and challenges.

There are many other community minded men and women who distinguished themselves in this latest generation. Look around. You can see where Don Terbush, had a finger or hand in numerous long-lasting local projects. ~

Become a Master Gardener

Ferndale, NY-Volunteer to become a Master Gardener through Cornell Cooperative Extension Sullivan County. This is a 15 week training program that will begin September 6th 2012 at the Gerald J. Skoda Education Center in Liberty, NY. Up to 20 individuals will be accepted into the program after an application and interview process.

Begun in 1975 in New York State, the Master Gardener's Program combines a set curriculum, learning experiences and hands on training. The program provides home and community gardeners with unbiased gardening information based on research knowledge and reliable experience. Community service is required as part of this "neighbors teaching neighbors" approach. Training dates will run every Thursday from September 6th through January 31st. Snow dates are also built into the schedule. The cost is $200.00 with $50.00 returned to those who complete the training and required 100 hours of volunteer service.

Applications for this volunteer program are available on line at www.sullivancce.org or at the extension office at 64 Ferndale Loomis Rd., Liberty, NY. For more information contact Susan M. Dollard at 845-292-6180.

Liberty Free Theatre Returns to Kauneonga Lake- Rent Money Readings Continue at Beekman Pavilion

On Thursday, July 26 at 7:00 P.M. the Liberty Free Theatre will continue its second year of Rent Money Readings at the Beekman House Pavilion across from the Fat Lady Cafe in Kauneonga Lake with four short plays, three funny, one not so funny, with theatre company members. Kathy McKenna applies for a job at Walmart, Janna Comando and Beverly Dally cope with getting older as they keep an eyes on their kids at the beach, Valerie Mansi and Kathy McKenna gossip about their neighbor and Oliver King administers the rules of conscience to Michael Frizalone.

The readings are fundraisers to help defray the rental cost of The Liberty Free Theatre's home base in Liberty.

Artistic Director, Paul Austin says, "Rent Money Readings are our revival of a community custom known as Rent Parties that helped people survive the hard times of the Great Depression by passing the hat for whoever needed to come up with next week's rent. They were festive parties in a bleak time, and we're hoping that these unusual and often very funny plays will help us and our audiences get through our own recession hard times together.'

The suggested donation is $20. The audience is invited after the performance to the Fat Lady Café for complimentary hors d'oerves. Call 845 292-3788 for reservations and information.

Scholarships for College - Volunteers are Eligible for Full and Part-Time Assistance

[LIBERTY] - Volunteers who help with 2012 Sullivan Renaissance projects are eligible to apply for two different collège scholarship opportunities. Applications for both programs are available online at www.sullivanrenaissance.org

Sullivan Renaissance Scholarship

The Community Foundation of Orange and Sullivan Counties, through a donor-advised fund established by Sullivan Renaissance, offers a limited number of scholarships to volunteers who make a significant contribution to a Renaissance project in their community. Scholarships are announced in August and given for the 2013 spring semester to the undergraduate college of one's choice.

Interested applicants must demonstrate that they have volunteered for a Renaissance project in a significant way and include a letter of support from the project leader along with a letter of recommendation. They should indicate the college or university that they will be attending, as well as their chosen area of study. Candidates must describe the following: their contribution to Sullivan Renaissance; the impact the experience had on them; and why they have chosen their area of study.

Applications are due by Monday, August 6, 2012. An interview of final candidates may be conducted before selection. The scholarship is available to students either currently enrolled in college full-time or planning to attend college full-time in the fall of 2012. Scholarship funds will be released to the recipients' college financial office for the 2013 spring semester. SUNY Sullivan Scholarship

The SUNY Sullivan Foundation will also award scholarships to volunteers involved in Renaissance projects in their community. This deadline has been extended to Monday, August 6, 2012.

Scholarships of $1500 are available for full-time students. To receive a full-time award, an applicant must be a Sullivan County resident attending or planning to attend SUNY Sullivan full-time for the 2012-2013 academic year and must be a June 2012 graduate of a Sullivan County High School.

To receive a part-time award of $750, a volunteer must be a resident of Sullivan County who has been out of high school for more than one year. The applicant must have a high school diploma or GED certificate or college transcript and be planning to register at SUNY Sullivan part-time for a minimum of six credits and a maximum of eleven credits for the fall and spring semesters.

Applicants must volunteer in a 2012 community project and include a letter of recommendation from the leader of the Sullivan Renaissance group. They must answer the question "How have I, as a member of my community, been part of the Sullivan Renaissance?" (250-words) or submit a photographic portfolio or a video of their participation in the

Past Scholarship Recipients

Last year the Community Foundation awarded nine Sullivan Renaissance Scholarships ranging between $500 and $1000: Jesse Fadis, Kenoza Lake Fire Department, attending Binghamton University; Maya Grady, Narrowsburg Beautification Group, attending Drexel University; Lauren Hazen, Town of Lumberland Circle Park, attending SUNY Oneonta; Meaghan Hazen, Town of Lumberland Circle Park, attending SUNY Brockport; Jonathan McCoy, Woodridge Kiwanis Club, attending Rochester Institute of Technology; Anthony Nittoli, Town of Mamakating, attending SUNY Fredonia; Patrick Reiser, Lumberland Parks & Recreation, attending SUNY Oswego; Erika Vorstadt, Erika's Better Bags, attending SUNY Oneonta; and Matthew Young, Wurtsboro Renaissance, attending SUNY Plattsburgh.

Seven Sullivan Renaissance Scholarships were awarded in 2010 and 2009; and six in 2008.

In 2012 one part-time SUNY Sullivan Scholarship of $750 was given to Bonnie Carnell of Monticello for volunteering on the Monticello landscaping.

Since the SUNY Sullivan Scholarships began in 2003 a total of twelve full-time and eight parttime scholarships have been awarded.

Renaissance Program Communities have been hard at work on dozens of projects since grants were awarded in April. Many can still use help before judging begins on August 9. For a list of the groups and projects call Sullivan Renaissance at 845-295-2445. For information about the SUNY Sullivan scholarship, call 845-434-5750 x 4327.

Sullivan Renaissance is a beautification and community development program principally funded by the Gerry Foundation. Sponsors include Bold Gold Media Group/Thunder 102, FisherMears Associates, Kristt Company, Robert Green Dealerships, Sullivan County Democrat, The River Reporter, Thompson Sanitation and WSUL/WVOS.

Annual Trout Stocking Program
The District is now offering their annual Trout Stocking Program. If you are interested in stocking your pond with trout or fathead minnows this fall, the District will be accepting orders until Monday, September 17th, 2012.

Rainbow, Brook and Brown trout are being offered for sale. Trout should be stocked in coldwater ponds.

Anyone stocking a pond with fish must apply for a fish stocking permit through the NYS Department of Environmental Conservation in New Paltz, NY.

For more information, you can go to the District's website at sullivancountyswed.com or contact the District office at (845) 292-6552, Ext. 101 for a brochure, order form and a permit application.

DRAGONFLIES By Peggy DeWire

A dragonfly begins life in the water as a crawling bug-like nymph and ends it several years later a beautiful flying insect with four transparent wings that glisten in the sunlight with rainbow colors. They fly so fast in 60 mph bursts that they usually escape from birds and animals.

The dragonfly's long slender body can be red, green or blue with white, black or yellow markings. The shape suggests the name "darning needle." Small and graceful damselflies have more fragile bodies, brightly colored.

Three hundred and fifty million years ago giant dragonflies with two-foot wingspread zoomed around that ancient world. Nowadays only two families remain in the order Odonata dragonflies and damselflies most plentiful in the tropics.

The large head is attached to the body along with two small antennae, strong jaws and two compound eyes that cover most of the head. Humans have one lens in each eye; dragonflies have five hundred, each seeing only a piece of the whole picture.

But a thousand images fit together like a jigsaw puzzle making a complete scene.

Dragonflies can see motionless objects six feet away, moving objects three times that. Since dragonflies hunt solely on the wing, they rely on their wonderful eyesight. Damselflies fly more weakly but hunt the same way.

True dragonflies hold their wings out horizontally at rest while damselflies perch with narrow wings together upright.

A dragonfly has six spiny strong legs which can perch but cannot walk. As it zooms through the air, it gathers its legs into a basket to catch mosquitoes and black flies which are eaten while flying. Dragonflies are extremely good hunters that consume their own weight every thirty minutes. What a beneficial insect to man!

Dragonflies can mate in flight. Often after mating the male suspends the female on egg laying trips around a pond while she hovers to drop her hundreds of eggs in the water or attach them to Adult dragonflies live several months whereas their offspring take several years in water before their life cycle is ended.

The young dragonfly (nymph) hatches from the egg in about a week and walks along the bottom of the pond hunting in a stop-and-look manner. He also can jet rapidly through the water by squirting water out of the tip of his tail.

A nymph breathes through another tube in its tail by sucking water in and out and extracting oxygen from the water.

Nymphs are voracious hunters of small underwater creatures, including tadpoles and small minnows. I call them "mud tigers."

They have a curious trap to catch prey which no other insect has. The lower lip is a long hinged mouth part with sharp hooks at the tip. This is shot forward like a frog extends its tongue to catch a fly. When not in use, it folds over the face like a mask.

While developing into an adult dragonfly, a nymph sheds its skin (molts) a dozen times over the next several years. For the final molt the nymph climbs out of the water onto a reed or rock. Here it sheds its skin for the last time; wings emerge and dry off and it flies away, glistening like a rainbow. Dragonflies are a reliable yardstick that indicates a clean water pond.

Some years ago a group of us went fishing in upstate New York and I brought along some irresistible bait, a dozen mud tigers in a coffee can, which I put on the cabin porch while we got unpacked and settled in.

The next afternoon we took the coffee can down to the dock, opened the lid - and watched our bait fly away.

Household Hints

White distilled vinegar provides many safe and natural ways to protect and enhance your garden.

Kill weeds and grass growing in unwanted places by pouring full-strength white distilled vinegar on them. This works especially well in crevices and cracks of walkways and driveways.

MYSTERIOUS BOOK REPORT NO. 59 by John Dwaine McKenna

Whew! It's been a scorching hot summer so far, and there doesn't seem to be a lot of relief on the way. We've got eight out-of-control forest fires raging in different parts of Colorado as I'm writing this, and a lunatic arsonist here locally who's set thirty small fires at last count. All of which, fortunately, have been put out before they did major damage like the 4500 acre one that's threatening the west side of Colorado Springs, Manitou Springs and another handful of small villages further west of here that encircle the northwest flank of Pikes Peak; an area known as Ute Pass. Colorado Springs has fifty-seven contiguous miles of boarder with National Forest service land, all of it rugged, full of valleys and ridges, steep vertical rises, and all of it is covered with various pine, spruce, cedar, pinion and juniper trees, rocks, scree and scrub oak. It has a few trails and only a couple of roads. One of the hiking trails, a popular spot known as Waldo Canyon, is where the fire began around noon on Saturday. By five o'clock that afternoon it had spread to 2000 acres and has been out of control ever since. As of Monday morning, it had doubled in size and continues to be out of control. We have about 6 or 7 thousand people under mandatory everuation, with hundreds more on standby. Resources are spread thin because of the number of active blazes in the control of the number of active blazes in the control of the number of active blazes in the control of the number of active blazes in the control of the number of active blazes in the control of the number of active blazes in the control of the number of active blazes in the number of active blazes

Utah, New Mexico and Colorado, but even so, we have single and twin engine aircraft, three sizes of jumbo helicopters and two C-130 military aircraft dropping water, and fire retardant, as well as 600 or more wildfire fighters on the ground.

As our house is only about a half-mile or so east of the evacuation line, a slight change in wind direction or speed could have sent us to a shelter or motel, we've been glued to the television news, and I don't have full book reviews ready for this week's MBR. Soooo . . .

Here's a suggested list of books for summer reading with a short description of each I cobbled together from various resources:

1. Gone Girl, by Gilliam Flynn, (Crown Publishing, $25.00) A psychological thriller by an Edgar-nominated author, about a marriage gone wrong. When the wife turns up missing and the husband's lies begin to catch up with him it seems to be a simple one to solve. But, not quite. All is not as simple as it seems... This one got starred reviews from Booklist and Library Journal.

Amped, Daniel Wilson (Doubleday, $25.00) The follow up to his smash-hit Robopocalypse. In this one, Wilson imagines a world where some individuals have "amplified" abilities because of implanted devices in their heads. Trouble starts when Congress passes laws restricting people's rights to amp themselves. Protagonist Owen Gray goes on the run to find others like himself who've been amped. Personally, I can't wait to get my hands on a copy of this one, and may do a full review of it later.
 The Third Gate. Lincoln Child. (Doubleday, $25.95) An archeological dig in the swamps of Sudan may have found the burial place of King Narmer, the man

3. The Third Gate, Lincoln Child, (Doubleday, $25.95) An archeological dig in the swamps of Sudan may have found the burial place of King Narmer, the man who united Egypt. When a second archeologist is brought in to separate fact from fiction, trouble follows . . . including a possible ancient curse. A solo effort from the renowned team of Child and Doug Preston.

Commissioner Cunningham to Leave Position in August, SC is Advertising for Replacement

Monticello - Sullivan County Manager David Fanslau has announced that Christopher Cunningham has submitted his resignation as the Commissioner of the Division of Health and Family Services, which essentially serves as the statutory commissioner of the County's social services district. Commissioner Cunningham's departure will be effective at the close of business on Friday, August 17, 2012.

"I have accepted Mr. Cunningham's resignation, with regret, but also with an understanding of his personal situation, and with appreciation for his service to Sullivan County in this position," said Fanslau. "Mr. Cunningham has also served the public in previously held positions as a County Legislator and as Chairman of the Legislature, and I thank him for his service to the citizenry throughout his tenure as a public servant," added Fanslau.

The Personnel Office has developed an advertisement for this position, which will be placed in various publications. All individuals that meet the qualifications are encouraged to submit their resume to the Personnel Office by Friday, August 10, 2012.

The posting on the County's website may be found here: http://co.sullivan.ny.us/Depart-ments/Personnel/JobOpportunities/tabid/3221/Default.aspx

Catskill and Italian Fly Fishing Museums Establish Sister Relationship (From Pg. 1)

Over the past seven years, the CFFCM featured international fly fishing exhibits. The 2011 Italian exhibit was coordinated by Italy's Alberto Calzolari in cooperation with SIM and the Italian Fly Fishing Museum. This outstanding exhibit included a large variety of flies by some of Italy's finest tyers, hand crafted fly tackle and fly tying tools, and antiquities including a Roman hook verified as being over 2,000 years old. As a result, CFFCM Executive Jim Krul and Mr. Calzolari determined that both museums should develop a sister relationship to share in each other's fly fishing cultures. Calzolari emphasized "...fly fishing and fly tying is an international language and words are not required. It is also a rich and common friendship that we all share".

To make this partnership official, Krul and Giorgio Cavatorti, Italy's director exchanged certificates recognizing this association and the mutual intent to foster goodwill within the international fly fishing community. Both museums will have permanent displays of one another and maintain a dialogue for the preservation and promotion of fly fishing. This sistership is the first of its kind of bonding between two international fly fishing museums.

The International Museum of the fly fishing Stanislao Kuckiewicz, (Museo Internazionale della Pesca a Mosca Stanislao Kuckiewicz) is located in the ex Maddalena's 15th century Convent of Castel di Sangro (Italy) on the Sangro River. It was founded in 2000 by the Italian School of Fly Fishing (S.I.M.) with the collaboration of Castel di Sangro's municipality, Pesca Sportivi Sangro Association and the Italian ArcheoClub.

The Catskill Fly Fishing Center and Museum is located on the banks of the Willowemoc Creek in Livingston Manor, NY. Founded by Elsie Darbee in 1981, it continues to grow and is now recognized world wide as a center for fly fishing. The CFFCM is expanding again with a 4,800 square-foot addition to the Paul Dahlie Education building to accommodate the Wulff Gallery and the Catskill Rodmakers Workshop and Craft Center. For more information contact: CFFCM 845-439-4810

State Senators, Assemblymen, County Legislature Chairman, Legislators and Supervisors File Joint Opposition Letter to NYS DEC Consent

Order on DEP Releases

Senators John Bonacic and James Seward, along with Assemblymen Pete Lopez and George Amedore, and numerous local officials from Ulster County, including County Legislature Chairman Terry Bernardo, have filed formal objections to the NYS DEC'S proposed consent order involving the NYC DEP's release of turbid waters into Ulster County.

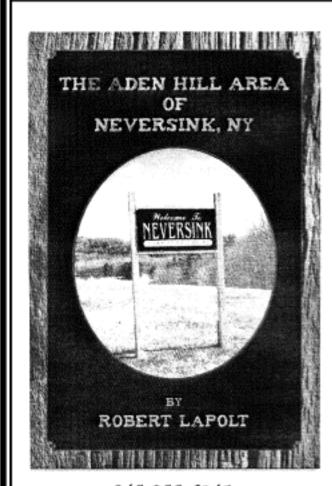

A copy of the letter is attached. Senator Bonacic said, "I am very disappointed in the DEC's initial consent order. These releases have been a source of economic loss to Ulster County businesses, an eyesore to the community and a blight on the environment. If discolored water was being served in the taps of restaurants in Manhattan, this would be front page news in every paper in the country until the water is clear again. Instead, this has been a blip on the radar. We need the DEC to do better."

Senator James L. Seward said, "As I meet with the Ulster County elected officials, business owners and residents to learn of their concerns, the conversation quickly turns to the Esopus, water quality, and the DEP. Suffice it to say, this proposed consent order does nothing to alleviate those concerns. I urge the DEC to rethink this action and come up with a solution that "protects Ulster County and doesn't simply bow to New York City."

Assemblyman Peter Lopez said, 'The City of New York has embarked on an experiment with the US EPA to avoid filtration of its drinking water supply. This experiment is coming at the cost of the Catskill region and, more importantly, is affecting more of the communities directly outside the watershed. While all of us, certainly, want our neighbors to have clean drinking water, the experiment of avoiding and releasing turbid water is forcing us to pay the price of clean water for the City of New York. By granting this permit, we are taking a step backward. New York City and the DEC need to protect our water quality and not treat us as second class citizens."

Ulster County Legislature Chairman Terry Bernardo said, "The Ulster County Legislature unanimously opposes the DEC consent order. For the DEC to now sign it (since the DEP) already has, would be to say that Ulster County is irrelevant to them. As I have said, when bureaucrats in Albany make deals with bureaucrats in New York City about the quality of water in Ulster County, you know it's a bad deal for us. The County Legislature will have to consider legal action, if this consent order is signed in its present form."(See letter Pg. 12)

'Coming this fall'

...210 pages, 40 photographs, 5 maps, 22 sketches, diagrams, through 4 chapters of this area; this area called, the 'Aden Hill Area'.

Where was the original road into the 'Aden Hill area'? Where did the name Aden come from? Why were the Latter Day Saints here? At one time the Hunter Road was like the present day NYS Thruway. This was a main thoroughfare connecting 3 watersheds from the East Branch of the Delaware River to the 209 Corridor into Kingston and the Hudson River. What impact did this have on the Aden Hill area and the families living there?

This information and much more coming this fall at the Time and the Valley Museum, Grahamsville, NY.-- date and time forthcoming.

The Olive Jar - Carol LaMonda

Elvis is in the Park

Olive Day is the day we all forget if we are Democrats or Republicans, old or young, rich or poor, friends or foe. It is our day to commonly celebrate that we live in a very special town, and we are all neighbors. Last year Olive Day was done in by Hurricane Irene which closed all the parks in the state.

This year it is especially anticipated.

After thirty-eight years, Olive Day has that comfortable, familiar feel to it. The 5K Kent Reeves Run (Jason's Journey) led by Patrick Burkhardt; Frog Jumping with the Burghers; the Egg Toss with Gino and Diane; music with Ben Rounds and the Ex-Files; line dancers led by Sherry and George Thomas; the Penny Social organized by Ternice Winne; the Wayfinders' Adventure; hayrides with Supervisor Bert Leifeld, and Pluck a Duck with Jeannie Bachor are only some of the fun events. The Bushkill Rod and Gun Club Chicken Barbecue and lots of vendors will provide a variety of gastronomical choices. The First Aid, Firemen, Police and Scouts will be there too.

This year, in addition to all the expected venues at Olive Day, Elvis will be there to entertain us. His presence will spur a few new events like the Elvis the Pelvis Hula Hoop contest for children and adults.

The Elvis Show, which is scheduled from 12:30 to 3:00 p.m., stars Joe "Elvis" Borelli who comes to us with rave reviews. He has performed with The Drifters, The Coasters, Chuck Berry and Jerry Lee Lewis. In December he is sharing the stage with Jimmy Fallon.

So mark the date, September 8, (always the Saturday following Labor Day) on your calendar. This is the day families gather to renew our pride in Olive. Hope for fair skies and look for me serving burgers and hotdogs.

RESERVOIR MUSIC CENTER

RESERVOIR MUSIC NOTES- Fred Perry-Owner of Reservoir Music Center • 711 Route 28, Kingston, NY 12401-845-657-6127.

Greetings! Last week there was a show that flew under my radar and didn't get recommended. The show was Connor Kennedy's 18th Birthday Bash at The Bearsville Theater. Connor assembled a top shelf band of musician's and the set list was the entire "Layla" album by Derek and The Dominos! From the first note, the band channeled the spirit of the Clapton band! Connor and guitarist Scott Sharrard did a more than passable reincarnation of Clapton and Duane Allman, Jeremy Baum and Kyle Esposito did an admirable job anchoring the keys and bass, respectively, Manuel Quintana was wonderful on percussion and drums, backing vocalists Vicki Bell and Lindsey Webster were fabulous, but drummer and vocalist Lee Falco shone above all! Lee brought to mind a comment John Lennon once made about Ringo. John said, "You couldn't yank Ringo out of the pocket with a crane". Lee was right there all the way, laying down a perfect backbeat with tasty accents and singing the second vocal parts! And he's a great singer too! In one fell swoop, Lee Falco has vaulted into my top 5 Hudson Valley drummers! And speaking of great singers, Connor Kennedy NAILED Eric Clapton! It was phenomenal to watch. His vocals had every inflection and emotion that Clapton had back then, when he wasn't much older than Connor is now! Connor is definitely growing as a guitarist as well, and being mentored by Scott Sharrard, Gregg Allman's "secret weapon", has got to be helping!

After performing the entire double album, the band left the stage, but the audience wouldn't let them go! They were called back for an encore, and as Connor stepped up to the microphone, the entire audience was wondering what they would do. They'd already done the entire album. Where could they go next? Well, when Connor opened his mouth and sang out, "I'll bet you didn't think I knew how to Rock and Roll", it was a Perfect Rock n Roll Moment! "Blues Power" was the ONLY song that would have been acceptable as an encore, and it was a perfect end to a truly enjoyable night! Happy Birthday Connor!

This week's live music calendar is the easiest ever, and here it is! If you live in the Hudson Valley, on Friday night you go see DAVID JOHANSEN, lead singer of The New York Dolls, the former Buster Poindexter, and Blues belter extraordinaire, perform with a duo at The Falcon in Marlborough, and on Saturday night, you're at The Bearsville Theater for Master of the Telecaster, BILL KIRCHEN, who was the guitarist in the original Commander Cody and his Lost Planet Airmen, one of the greatest, most underrated bands of all time! These two shows are my two Picks of the Week!

Now if you're in the city, then Wednesday night, you're at Town Hall in Manhattan for acoustic guitar master, TOMMY EMMANUEL. Thursday night, you're at the Bowery Ballroom for SOUL ASYLUM, Friday night, BB King's for a true master of Rock and Roll performance art, DEL-BERT MCCLINTON, and Saturday evening, Rumsey Playfield in Central Park for up and coming Blues guitarist, Gary Clarke, Jr.

Then everybody meets up at The Beacon Theater on Wednesday, August 1, for DONALD FAGEN, MICHAEL MCDONALD, and BOZ SCAGGS!

See how easy it is when you let me plan your weekend for you? Have a great week!

From the Governor's Office

Dear Fellow New Yorker, Summer in New York is a fantastic time for New Yorkers and their families to take advantage of the numerous outdoor opportunities across our state. In addition to hiking, boating, camping, and more, thanks to a new law signed by Governor Cuomo, more New Yorkers will be able to experience fishing for the first time.

The new law increases the number of free fishing clinics throughout our state, allowing more New Yorkers to Tearn to fish without having to purchase a license.

To find a free clinic in your area go to: http://www.dec.ny.gov/outdoor/27123.html Let's enjoy a new New York, together.

Sincerely, The Office of the Governor

Convicted Rapist Paul Curry in Custody

MONTICELLO - Convicted rapist Paul Curry, 38 of Grahamsville is in custody after 48 hours on the run.

Curry, who was out on bail, awaiting sentencing in a 2011 rape case, eluded Sheriff's Detectives on Tuesday, July 17th, when they went to his residence to arrest him on a warrant. Curry had violated an order of protection when he contacted his 12 year old victim.

On Thursday, July 19th, just after 5:00 PM a uniformed state trooper from the Liberty barracks developed information that Paul Curry was hiding at a residence on Big Woods Road in the Town of Thompson. The trooper took Curry into custody, but had to immediately take him to Catskill Regional Medical Center because the suspect had swallowed a large amount of pills. Curry was turned over to Sheriff's deputies at the hospital. County Court Judge Michael McGuire arraigned Curry at the hospital and immediately revoked his bail in the pending case. Curry was remanded to the custody of the Sheriff and will be sent to the Sullivan County Ivil as seen as he will be sent to the Sullivan County Jail as soon as he is released from the hospital.

Sheriff Mike Schiff thanked all of the Sullivan County Police agencies that participated in the man hunt. "Getting this subject off the street was a top pri-ority," said the Sheriff.

UC Exec Mike Hein to Apply for Assistance for Homeowners Affected by Hurricane Irene

Kingston, NY - On behalf of Ulster County, County Executive Mike Hein is applying for Community Development Block Grant funding to assist low income homeowners in need of housing improvements. Priority will be given to homeowners needing repairs due to Hurricane Irene and/or Tropical Storm Lee. Rural Ulster Preservation Company (RUPCO) will administer the program on behalf of the County.

County Executive Hein stated, "Ulster County continues efforts to assist howneowners and businesses impacted by these terrible storms. I urge all eligible homeowners interested in participating to contact RUPCO at (845) 331-9860 ext 220 to ensure that their needs are incorporated into this application for funding.

Ulster County, working with RUPCO intends to apply for $750,000. Applications are due on August 17, 2012. Past applications for CDBG funding have been successful. Most recently, in 2011 Ulster County was awarded $750,000. If this grant application is successful, funds are expected to be available in the spring of 2013. Kevin O'Connor, Executive Director of RUPCO said. "Hurricane Irene exacerbated the need for housing repairs within the County. RUPCO is committed to providing housing assistance to those in need and we are pleased to be able to assist the County in this application."

Festival Opera to Puccini Masterpiece "La Boheme" Highmount, NY - The Belleayre Festival Opera presents the world's most popular opera, the Puccini masterpiece "LaBoheme" on Saturday, July 28 at 8 p.m.

Donald Westwood's spectacular new production, designed exclusively for the Belleayre Music Festival, features a cast of today's most gifted young, internationally-known opera stars, led by Diana McVey, Violetta in last season's magnificent "La Traviata." The production will be performed in Italian with SuperTitles.

The audience will be transported to 19th-century Paris via the world's favorite Puccini opera, performed by a company of 50 singers and musicians including members of Richard Tucker's Community Chorale of the Catskills. Opera at Belleayre is like opera nowhere else. Experience fabulous natural acoustics and up-close viewing under our big top, as the precarious lives and passionate loves of artists, poets and musicians in the Latin Quarter come to life in glorious sound and visual opulence. Performed in Italian with SuperTitles.

"La Boheme," is Donald Westwood's 14th main-stage production for Belleayre. His productions have been called "exemplary" by The New York Times, "a welcome addition to this city's music" by New York Magazine and "a dynamic alternative to the giants at Lincoln Center" by Opera News. Mara Waldman, music director and conductor of last season's "La Traviata," returns to conduct "La Boheme."

Tickets the Belleayre Festival Opera's performance of "La Boheme" are $66, $56, $46, $36 and $25 for lawn seating.

The Belleayre lineup also includes four shows in the Catskill Mountain Jazz Series starting August 3, with NYC's Hottest Tribute Jazz Band Ed Palermo's Frank Zappa Little Big Band. August 4, M.F. Production's Celebration of Lionel Hampton featuring Dianne Schuur & Warren Wolf. August 10, Jazz for the "Here & Now" Stefon Harris & Blackout; the jazz series wraps up in outstanding style on August 11 with the Pat Metheny Unity Band with Chris Potter, Antonio Sanchez & Ben Williams. Up next on August 18, from noon-6 p.m. is the Belleayre Car Show (free admission to car show). This event precedes a concert by The Texas Tenors. August 18, "America's Got Talent" Sensations The Texas Tenors. August 25, Carolines Presents Comedy in the Catskills starring "Curb Your Enthusiasm's" Susie Essman. September 1, "America's No. 1 Tribute Show" The Music of Led Zeppelin - A Rock Symphony. All shows begin at 8 p.m. Tickets for all shows are on sale via Ticketmaster. ## Hinchey Receives 'Spirit of Woodstock Award from Woodstock Film Festival

 In recognition of a career long commitment to the arts and the environment, Congressman Maurice Hinchey (D-NY) was honored on Saturday, July 21 by the Woodstock Film Festival with its Second Annual Spirit of Woodstock Award.

"I am very honored to receive the Spirit of Woodstock Award from an organization as distinguished and respected as the Woodstock Film Festival," Hinchey said. "As the state and federal representative for Woodstock -- one of the greatest artist colonies in America -- I've spent the past 38 years working to provide resources to advance the arts and ensure our painters, musicians, dancers, filmmakers and all other artists receive the proper attention and support from their government. Additionally, it's important to note that the Woodstock Film Festival has long had a strong commitment to environmental causes, which of course, are near and dear to my heart. I am grateful for this honor and hope to carry on the 'Spirit of Woodstock' after I leave office."

Hinchey has been a strong supporter of the Festival's Woodstock Film Youth Initiative/Youth at Risk program, which is designed to give underserved high-risk youth the opportunity to learn and participate in the filmmaking field. The congressman has previously secured $30,000 in federal funds for the program. Through educating high-risk youth and giving them the tools and the knowledge to cre-ate, represent, and present their own films while learning from industry professionals, the Woodstock Film Festival has sought to open the doors of a creative outlet for expression and professional growth. Hinchey has also been a strong supporter of the Hudson Valley Film Commission, which helps facilitate film production in the region, helps attract positive attention to the area and boosts the local economy.

"The Woodstock Film Festival is not only a highly respected festival internationally, but has also been an incubator for regional talent and an enormous economic engine for the area, bringing thousands of people and film produc-tion to the Hudson Valley," Hinchey said. "I am very humbled that they've chosen to honor me

"SPACES & PLACES" Catskill Artist Gallery Exhibits at Old Stone House

The members of the newly re-formed Catskill Artists Gallery (CAG) will be exhibiting their work at The Old Stone House gallery in a show called "Spaces & Places" from August 11 through August 19, 2012. The hours of the show will be August 11 from noon to 7 p.m. and from noon to 5 p.m. on August 12, 18, and 19.

The show will open on August 11 from 4 to 7 p.m. with a reception offering CAG's usual delicious assortment of food and drink; and the artists will be on hand.

CAG recently closed its "bricks-and-mortar" store after nine years on Main Street in Liberty to become a "gallery without walls." Three former consignors joined the five original members to take the gallery in new directions.

There has been a lot of enthusiasm as the eight members schedule shows at local venues and sign up for art/craft fairs in New Jersey and farther-flung places in New York, as well as the wonderful events held right here in Sullivan county. They recently had a successful art exhibition at the Liberty Museum & Arts Center in Liberty.

They have also built a brand-new website. The new site is a total revamping to create a compelling graphic look and enable selling online. It includes individual pages for each artist, biographies, a schedule of events, and a blog to which all members contribute. Take a look at www.catskillartistsgallery.com

Members of the "new" CAG are:

Nada Clyne. Nada creates three-dimensional works of art in multiple layers of clear resin, clay, gold leaf and glass paint. She captures idyllic nature scenes in miniature; in fact some of her work became so small, she now has a line of "wearable art," pendants that contain beautiful scenes. Visit her website at www.nadaclyne.com Robert Friedman. Robert creates color print editions of nature/landscape subjects, and abstract standing sculptures and wall reliefs. His art, rich with color, combines strong structural and curving shapes. He uses such diverse materials as metal, acrylic plastic, wood, and found objects. See his work at www.robertfriedmanart.com

Cate Gundlah. Cate works in glass: stained glass, fused glass, and lampwork beads. She sees beads as miniature works of art and enjoys combining colors to see the chemical reactions. Glass fusing allows her to run the gamut of glass art, from the practical (but always beautiful!) to the whimsical, such as her cat and fish beads.

Margaret Helthaler. Margaret's mixed media photography explores a variety of photographic techniques and materials and focuses on the natural landscape around her -- not just the textures, details and colors in New York's Southern Catskills, but also the windswept open spaces of New Jersey's Atlantic coastline. Learn more about her work at: www.margarethelthaler.com

Kathy Jeffers. Kathy's pottery, clay sculpture and jewelry share certain characteristics: creativity, whimsy, and originality. She loves the soft, malleable clay for its ability to take on any shape, from vases to plates to whimsical boxes and fanciful "creatures." She also creates jewelry from her own distinctive beads, glass beads, and silver metal clay. See her work at www.kathyjeffersstudio.com

Tom Kelemen. Tom has taken photographs since he was a child, starting out in black and white which developed his keen sense of composition. He now seeks out animals and landscapes for his subjects in the farmland, forests, mountains and waterways of New York State from the Hudson to the Delaware.

Buff McAllister. Buff has textiles in her blood from ancestors in the weaving and tailoring trades. She weaves scarves and rugs, but mostly creates large fabric collages and pieced and appliquéd vests. She also dabbles in whimsical, light-hearted jewelry, often creating components from polymer clay and epoxy resin, and using found objects such as fishing lures.

Hank Schneider. Hank, an internationally known commercial still-life photographer, has recently turned his creative attention to woodcraft. Using only standing dead or fallen trees, and finding their beautiful hidden grains and textures, he creates common articles in an uncommon way, such as waterproof wooden vases, benches, and tables, as well as cheese and bread boards.

The Old Stone House is located at 282 Hasbrouck Rd., Woodbourne, NY. Visit their website at: TheOldStoneHouseOfHasbrouck.org for more information.

Catskill Center for Conservation and Development to Honor Hinchey; Will Name New Catskill Interpretative Center After Congressman

In recognition of his 38 years in public office and commitment to preserving, improving, and drawing awareness to the Catskill Region, the Catskill Center for Conservation and Development will honor Congressman Maurice Hinchey (D-NY) on Saturday, July 21 and formally announce that the soon-to-beopened Catskill Visitor Center in Mount Tremper will be named after the congressman. The honor will be announced as part of the 43rd Annual Luncheon for the Catskill Center for Conservation and Development. Hinchey, who has lived in the Catskills since he was a young boy, helped initiate the plans for the new Center and secured federal resources for its design.

"I am truly honored and touched that the Catskill Interpretative Center will be dedicated in my name and will bear testament to my deep love and appreciation for this region," Hinchey said. "The opening of the Catskill Interpretive Center has been a dream of mine for more than two decades and it is very rewarding to know that with the funding I helped secure, we are finally about to begin the first stage of construction. This region is very rich in natural, historical and cultural resources and having a facility that will provide residents and tourists with information about these resources is critically important to our mission to protect and preserve our region. It is also critically important to promote the region as a first-class destination, keeping our local economies strong and our quality of life intact. I am very pleased to have played a role in this project and truly honored that the Center will bear my name."

The Catskill Regional Interpretive Center is a project Hinchey initiated as part of an effort to provide an educational and tourism resource center for the Catskill State Park similar to the Adirondack Park Interpretive Centers. The Catskill Park covers over 700,000 acres and is the largest state or national park without a visitors center. Hinchey secured $380,000 in federal funds that were used for the design of the new center.

Two years ago, Hinchey unveiled and dedicated the new Catskill Interpretive Kiosk site. The kiosk is filled with 16 illustrative and informative display panels on Catskill natural history, culture, and recreational activities. Located at a scenic roadside area, the kiosk offers an abundance of information for visitors to the Catskills as well as local residents. It is a microcosm of the displays planned for the Catskill Interpretive Center and was a first-step toward the realization of the long-anticipated education center.

Hinchey has represented the Hudson Valley for all of his 38 years in public office, including 14 years as Chairman of the Environmental Conservation Committee in the New York State Assembly where he authored numerous laws enhancing and protecting the region's precious resources and landscapes. One such law established the Hudson River Greenway and another established the State Environmental Quality Review Act, an important tool that helps ensure that development in New York achieves the highest environmental standards. Hinchey built on that work after arriving in Congress by authoring the legislation that established the Hudson River Valley National Heritage Area.

Gillibrand: "New York's Veterans and their Families Shouldn't Be in the Fight of Their Lives Here at Home in a Tough Economy"

U.S. Senator Kirsten Gillibrand today announced federal grants worth $1,206,025 to help prevent homelessness among struggling veterans and their families in the Hudson Valley. The federal grant funding is allocated from the U.S. Department of Veterans Affairs' Supportive Services for Veteran Families (SSVF) Program.

"New York's veterans and the families who stand by them bravely serve our country, and now we need to fight for them," Senator Gillibrand said. "We can't allow our veterans and their families to slip through the cracks here at home in this tough economy. This investment will help keep a roof over the heads of veterans and their families, and help keep them on stable ground. I will keep fighting my hardest to secure all the benefits and resources that our veterans and their families have earned."

"Hudson River Housing is proud to be able to provide this vital assistance to the families of our veterans," said Ed Murphy, Executive Director of Hudson River Housing. "There is an urgent need to expand veteran services to assist veterans and their families in accessing stable housing and the other community supports they need. Often, the needs of family members of veterans, who are a critical component of the support system for veterans themselves, are not considered by the current service system. This funding will help ensure that very low income veteran families are able to secure permanent housing, and help them overcome barriers to obtaining the programs and services they need and deserve. Hudson River Housing is pleased to be able to play a role in supporting our veterans, and move our organization into this important area of work."

Hudson River Housing is being awarded $270,000 in new federal funding to help provide assistance to low-income veterans and their families while transitioning from homelessness to permanent housing, as well as help at-risk veteran families stay in their homes and avoid homelessness. In a letter to U.S. Secretary of Veterans Affairs Eric Shinseki, Senator Gillibrand advocated for the VA's support for Under Private Housing.

Hudson River Housing.

Westchester Community Opportunity Program (WestCOP) is being awarded $936,025 through the SSVF program. The grant is a renewal of federal funding that Senator Gillibrand pushed to secure, and will serve veteran family households in Westchester, Putnam, Dutchess, Rockland, Orange and Ulster Counties.

The grants are part of nationwide initiative totaling more than $100 million in homeless prevention grants to improve very low-income veteran families' housing stability. Grants are awarded to private, non-profit organizations and consumer cooperatives to provide support services to very low-income veteran families living in or transitioning to permanent housing.

DEP Announces Improvements to Ashokan Dividing Weir Gatehouse

The New York City Department of Environmental Protection (DEP) today announced that construction will begin this week to modernize and upgrade operations to the dividing weir gatehouse at the Ashokan Reservoir. The project will replace the mechanical and electrical components in the gate house and help ensure that operations at the reservoir continue to run reliably and efficiently.

The dividing weir at Ashokan controls the flow of water from the west basin into the east. When the west basin fills up it spills into the east basin over the weir. The dividing weir gate house is used to control the transfer of water between the basins when the west basin has not reached the spilling point.

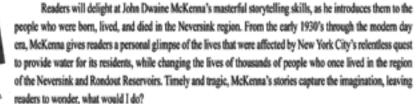

The gate house was originally constructed between 1909 and 1911. As part of the current project, four new "sluice gates" will be installed, replacing the original cast iron sluice gates. These gates are five feet wide and fifteen feet high and are located in the existing channels of the weir. Each gate will be operated by its own new electric motor. New electrical panels, a transformer, conduits and lights will be installed in the gatehouse as well as upgrades to the control system.

There will be temporary closures of the northbound lane on Reservoir Road during construction. Two temporary traffic signals will be installed to allow for alternating one-way traffic through the work zone. Some of the work will require additional temporary traffic changes on Reservoir Road.

The project is expected to be completed by the summer of 2015 at a cost of approximately $13 mil-

DEP manages the city's water supply, providing more than one billion gallons of water each day to more than nine million residents, including eight million in New York City. The water is delivered from a watershed that extends more than 125 miles from the city, comprising 19 reservoirs and three controlled lakes. DEP employs nearly 6,000 employees, including almost 1,000 in the upstate watershed. DEP has a robust capital program with a planned $13.2 billion in investments over the next 10 years that creates up to 3,000 construction-related jobs per year. ## Joint Opposition Letter to NYS DEC Consent Order on DEP Releases (From Pg. 4)

Mr. Joe Martens, Commissioner NYS DECDivision of Water Bureau of Water Resource Management 625 Broadway Albany, NY 12233 VIA FAX TO: 518-402-8541 RE: Order on Consent DEC Case #007-0001-11

Consent order of DEP/DEC Relating to Esopus Discharges

Dear Commissioner Martens:

We are writing to express our objections to the DEC's wholly inadequate consent order on the above referenced matter. The relentless attack on Ulster County by the DEP whether it is flooding of Wawarsing's residents needs, or pitting town against town based on how much water should be released from DEP owned property, should be stopped by the DEC, not effectively forgiven.

It appears the DEC is acting as a partner in pollution with the DEP by levying a fine and then suspending 1/3 of it. In short, it appears the fine levied amounts to little more than the "cost of doing business" for New York City, while Ulster County residents suffer. Ulster officials have said that when Albany negotiates with Manhattan about water in Ulster County, you know a bad deal is coming. Sadly, we must agree.

This consent order should be substantially modified. The DEC should not put the interim release protocol in the consent order. It legalizes an inherently illegal act releases without a SPDES permit.

The consent order indicates the DEP is committed to certain capital improvements (paragraph 21) but also admits the DEC has no power to enforce that commit-

The interim protocol itself is problematic. The consent order does not:

 Provide for a measurement methodology to determine whether the DEP is making a reasonable effort to make releases from the elevation with the least turbidity in order to avoid discolored water in the Esopus Creek:

-Provide for concurrence or input by the County of Ulster or its specifically impacted Towns, to determine whether additional resources are reasonably necessary for reservoir balancing, for refill of the Ashokan Reservoir, or for proper water supply management;

- Ensure an adequate void target to permit the Ashokan to handle inflow from a major storm event Assemblyman such as a Hurricane Irene or Tropical Storm Lee like event(s).

Moreover, there should be a measurement methodology to ensure that the environmental, recreation and economic benefits to the lower Esopus are given the same consideration as water supply. Such a measurement methodology is necessary since the very purpose of the protocol claims it is to balance the two (1. water Ulster County Supervisors & Mayors supply and the 2. environmental, recreational and economic benefits) against each other,

It should also be clarified whether the interim protocol is based on more recent weather forecasting (i.e. the past decade, rather than some longer period of

Moreover, if it has not already happened, the draft scope (for the environmental impact study associated with the SPDES permit) should start to be developed and not wait until the consent order is signed. A SPDES permit is legally required for these force the DEP onto a path of lawfulness.

The dollar amount of required environmental benefits is inadequate. According to the Consent Order, by December, 2012 the City must propose two turbidity spend $750,000 to "fund these projects".

The projects should be identified through a public Consent Order, why "two projects" were selected. Of course, it could have been made clear to the County or the impacted towns what the projects were, or why the number is limited to "two," or how they will be selected. However, that did not happen as the consent order was negotiated secretly, and, when asked by staff, the sent orders are negotiated that way (secretly). While that may work for the most part, given the substantial public interest here, Ulster County and the impacted towns therein should have been at the table.

It also appears illogical to determine the costs first ects should be carefully negotiated -publicly - with other way around.

insult is only made worse by the fact that nearly 1/3 of it is suspended. In fact, it is our understanding that the maximum the Civil Penalty on an annual basis would be over $13.5 million for the actions of the City (based on a maximum fine of $37,500 per day). This Consent order alone contemplates perhaps up to two years between now and the time the Environmental Impact Study associated with the consent order is completed (as noted in Appendix A, Roman Numeral VI, point 4 on page 21 of the draft consent order);

The maximum civil penalty under law could be tens of millions of dollars. The DEC'S choice therefore, to levy a fine of $1.5 million and suspend 1/3 of that is arbitrary and capricious.

Further, the "environmental benefit" purported to be performed by the DEP includes $200,000 to study stream management of the Lower Esopus and $330,000 to implement the study. Substantial stream improvements across Ulster County should be paid for by the City as part of the civil penalty and the NYS DEC should stop standing in the way of flood mitigation efforts. The DEC should partner with Ulster County's communities and residents utilizing a more substantial fine to the DEP to implement true flood control and mitigation measures. True flood control measures could be implemented if an appropriate fine were levied.

The $60,000 technical advice fee should also be increased and the fund directed to Ulster County so that the County can work cooperatively with impacted localities. Second, the County should be able to hire people with substantial technical capacity and be permitted to participate in any meeting with the DEP and DEC throughout the entire environmental process;

Science based criteria is necessary to be applied in any consent order to demonstrate what the Interim Protocol actually means to the people who reside in Ulster County. A review of the consent order appears to pick numbers out of a hat with a handful of dollars tossed as a goodwill gesture.

The watershed issues have been years long and remain ongoing. New York City routinely is in the "power position". Here, the City has admittedly broken the law and now is the opportunity for the State DEC to hold them accountable, not be a partner in pollution.

There has been no effort in the consent order to determine the true costs of the DEP's actions on Ulster County in terms of tourism, flood damage, and property finally have the opportunity to bold the DEP accountable for their abuse of the people of the watershed: Please do it.

Sincerely, JOHN J. BONACIC, State Senator; JAMES 1. SEWARD, State Senator; GEORGE AMEDORE, State Assemblyman; PETE LOPEZ, State

UC Exec Mike Hein Commends Greg Helsmoortel's Appointment Represent UC on the Hudson River Valley Greenway Council (From Pg. 1)

"Preserving and maintaining the Hudson River discharges. It should not take a consent order to Valley is important for the communities and businesses of Ulster County . As Saugerties' former Town Supervisor and someone who is knowledgeable, caring, and committed to our community, Greg Helsmoortel is the perfect person to represent our reduction projects on the Upper Esopus and commits to interests on the Greenway," said County Executive

"I am honored to be recognized by County process first. Moreover, it is unclear in the draft Executive Hein, and asked to serve my community in this important way. The Hudson Valley River Greenway has proven to be beneficial to all of the residents of the Ulster County, which is why I look forward to contributing as a member of the Council," remarked Greg Helsmoortel.

"We are pleased to welcome Mr. Helsmoortel to DEC's Regional Director informed the public that con- the Greenway Council Board. We have worked with him as a Supervisor on Greenway projects, and look forward to continuing to work with him as a Board Member," said Hudson River Valley Greenway Communities Council Chair Barnabas McHenry.

Hudson River Valley The

Communities Council functions like a New York State agency. The Council consists of 27 voting members. It works with local and county governments to enhance local land use planning and create a voluntary regional planning compact for the Hudson River Valley . The Council provides community planning grants and technical assistance to help communities develop a vision for their future and tools to achieve it by balancing economic development and resource protection objectives.

The Greenway Area includes all riverside communities, and communities without physical access to the Hudson River in 14 counties. This includes 324 municipalities in the counties of Ulster, Albany, Bronx, Columbia, Dutchess, Greene, New York, Orange, Putnam, Rensselaer, Saratoga, Rockland, Washington, Westchester.

Press release:

MAHER FAR OUTPACES THE COMPETI-TION IN 101ST ASSEMBLY DISTRICT RACE FUNDRAISING

Walden Mayor rakes in over $26,000 in donations showing strong community support, WALDEN-The numbers are in! Candidates running for the newly created 101st Assembly District filed their financial reports with the New York State Board of Elections this week and the numbers show only one candidate in this race has the strong support of rank and file voters, Assembly candidate Brian Maher. Maher's campaign took in over $26,000 in donations between the January financial statement and the report filed this week showing strong grass roots support. Nearly 2/3 of donations came from individual donors with over 85% of the donors contributing $100 or less.

Since Maher started an exploratory committee to run for Assembly earlier this year, his campaign has successfully raised over $40,000. Maher stated, "One of the hardest things a candidate can do in a campaign is to go to people and ask them for money. I have been so overwhelmed by the support shown to me by so many. A large percentage of my donations come from those who may not have a lot

To give, but they, like me, care about their community and the direction of our state. Our fundraising is on par with that of an incumbent Member of Assembly. We are raising the funds we need to make this a successful and competitive race." Maher further stated, "Unlike my opponent in the primary, I am not an Albany insider. So every dollar we raise helps us wage a competitive grass roots race for the Republican and Conservative nomination. We have had to create a campaign operation from the bottom up. My opponent has an established campaign operation already in place and will have the ability tap an army of party committee members, county chairs, Albany insiders, PAC's, and special interests to help her campaign. We will rely on the support of the People.

Mr. Maher's opponent in the primary, Claudia Tenney, a Utica area Assemblywoman, is now running for the new 101st District after her Oneida County based district was eliminated under recent redistricting.

Ms. Tenney filed her financial reports this week showing lackluster fundraising and a $30,000 personal loan to her campaign. Tenney only raised just over $10,000 in the same period in which Maher raised over $26,000. After expenses and without the emergency loan to her campaign, Tenney would have had less cash on hand than Maher. Tenney's campaign financials from July also show a majority of her funds came from corporate donations or PAC's.

Margaret would also like to mention that, the present raffle quilt that, this small group of ladies put together each year, during the winter months, will be selling chances at the Old Time Fair and the Grahamsville Fair. 100% of our proceeds go to charities. Among them, in our local area is: the Sullivan County Cancer Society; The Federation for the Homeless (soup kitchen) in Monticello; CACHE (safe passage) in Liberty and Tri-Valley Cares, helping needed families in our area. Because we are a small group, we are limited to be able to show our raffle for donation, during the summer. So if you are at the fair please stop by our display and take a chance on our quilt, knowing that if you are not the lucky winner, your donation will go to charity.

The Humane Society of the United States and New York State Humane Association Applaud Gov. Cuomo for Signing Animal Protection Bill- Gov. Cuomo and New York Legislature Strip Animal

Fighters of Cruelty Tools The Humane Society of the United States and the New York Humane Association applaud Gov. Andrew Cuomo for signing legislation to strengthen current state laws to combat animal fighting. Introduced by Sen. Patty Ritchie, R-Heuvelton, and Assembly Member John McEneny, D-Albany, the bill prohibits the pos-session, use and trafficking of animal fighting paraphernalia with the intention to violate New York's animal fighting laws.

S.6774a/ A.9552 provides misdemeanor penalties for violators with imprisonment of up to 90 days and/or a fine of up to $500 on the first offense and imprisonment of up to one year and/or a fine of up to $1,000 for subsequent offenses within five years.

"Animals forced into the barbaric practice of animal fighting are defenseless, and we need to do everything we can to protect them from this cruel and senseless activity," said Sen. Ritchie, a lifelong dog owner and sponsor of the bill. "By closing this loophole and outlawing animal fighting paraphernalia, we are cracking down on animal fighting and gaining an added protection when it comes to keeping our pets safe."

"Animal fighting is a cruel and senseless act

"Animal fighting is a cruel and senseless act that involves a host of other criminal activities," said Brian Shapiro, New York state director for The HSUS. "The Humane Society of the United States praises Assembly Member John McEneny and Senator Patty Ritchie for championing this anti-crime and anti-cruelty bill and we are so glad Governor Cuomo signed it into law." "The New York State Humane Association is very grateful to Governor Cuomo for his support of a measure which strengthens New York's animal fighting statutes," said Samantha Mullen, chair of NYSHA's legislation committee. "His signature on the ban against animal fighting paraphernalia is the final step toward the enactment of a law that greatly enhances the ability of law enforcement personnel to build their cases against suspected animal fighters.

Animal Fighting Facts:

 From specially designed razor-sharp knives that are affixed to the heels of roosters in cockfights, to "rape stands" used to force fighting dogs to breed; specialized paraphernalia is used extensively in the animal fighting underworld.

Animal fighting is closely associated with other criminal activities such as gangs, narcotics, illegal weapons possession, gambling, child endanger-ment, public corruption and various violent crimes. A three-year study by the Chicago Police Department found that 70 percent of animal offenders had also been arrested for other felonies, including domestic and aggravated battery, illegal drug trafficking and sex crimes.

The HSUS offers rewards of up to $5,000 for information leading to the arrest and conviction of any person involved in illegal animal fighting. The HSUS asks anyone with information about animal fighting criminals to call 877-TIP-HSUS (877-847-4787). Tipsters' identities are protected.

New Laws will Support New Yorkers Craft Breweries

(Albany, NY) Assemblymember Kevin Cahill (D-Ulster, Dutchess) announced today that a package of legislation he co-sponsored, which will strengthen and promote New York State's vibrant craft beer industry, has been signed by the Governor. The new laws will provide a tax benefit for small breweries, exempt breweries from paying an annual State Liquor Authority fee and create a Farm Brewery License to encourage the use of local ingredients and allow craft brewers to expand their access to new markets.
"New York's micro-brewing industry has grown by leaps and bounds. These small businesses are creating jobs, supporting our farmers and hops growers by using locally grown products, and boosting tourism," said Assemblymember Cahill. "These measures will allow brewers the opportunity to invest in and expand their operations, and hire more employees right here in the Hudson Valley.'

"These bills will save me between $35,000 and $40,000 in New York State taxes. Considering that we are in a growth phase, those extra tax dollars will be directly reinvested by hiring one more full-time staff member," said Tommy Keegan, owner of Keegan Ales in Kingston, New York. These new laws will:

provide financial incentives to craft brewers in New York State who make fewer than 60 million gallons of beer per year and exempt breweries that produce brands of 1,500 barrels or fewer annually from a State Liquor Authority fee, regardless of location (A.10695);

* create a Farm Brewery license for craft brewers using primarily locally grown farm products, allowing Farm Breweries to open restaurants while increasing retail outlets for New York products (A.10694); and exempt Farm Wineries, Distilleries and Breweries from burdensome tax filing requirements (A.9523).

Governor Cuomo Signs Legislation to Expand Free Fishing Clinics in New York- New Law Allows For More New Yorkers to Be Introduced to Fishing

Governor Andrew M. Cuomo today signed legislation to expand free fishing clinics in New York State, allowing more New Yorkers to experience fishing for the first time by increasing the number of free clinics that can be held throughout the state.

"Summer in New York is a fantastic time for families and individuals to take advantage of the numerous outdoor opportunities offered in each of our state's beautiful regions," Governor Cuomo said. "This new law will allow more New Yorkers to take advantage of free fishing clinics, so our young people and other outdoor enthusiasts can learn to fish without having to purchase a license. Fishing is both a fun, outdoor activity, and an economic generator for communities across the state. I thank the bill sponsors for their leadership in helping this bill become law."

The Department of Environmental Conservation (DEC) conducts fishing clinics to help introduce individuals and Anyone is welcome to purchase a families to recreational angling. Participants are not required to have a fishing license in order to attend these clinics. get a 12'12' space to set up and sell. Each Under previous law, only four free sport fishing clinics could be is responsible for their own table and held annually in each of DEC's nine regions and DEC employees chairs. Call Laurie Allen-Kuehn were required to provide at least part of the instruction at the events.

The law signed today by the Governor permits DEC to hold more Now is the time to get rid of all those clinics, and also allows other entities to conduct fishing clinics with DEC authorization. By allowing additional free sport fishing clinics, about for a long time! Make some the law is designed to promote participation in recreational angling across New York State. Many local sporting federations and recreational groups run similar fishing clinics and enabling these groups to administer free clinics with DEC guidelines will benefit all New Yorkers who may be interested in fishing and enjoying the > State Senator Catharine Young, said, "This idea came from the grassroots support of DEC and the Dansville Fish and Game Club, so local students could learn to fish. Because of their efforts, and Governor Cuomo's support, countless people statewide will be introduced to the joy of fishing, connect with nature, and spend quality family time together. It shows how citizens who have a good idea can make a difference."

> Assembly Member Bob Sweeney, Chair of the Assembly Committee on Environmental Conservation, said, "As a recreational fisher myself, I am delighted that Governor Cuomo has signed into law my legislation to permit additional free recreational fishing clinics. Fishing is a time-honored activity which can either be relaxing or exhilarating and sometimes both. Fishing allows people to connect with nature, enjoy the natural beauty, and with a little luck, bring home lunch or dinner. Additional fishing clinics will introduce more New Yorkers to the sport."

DEC Commissioner Joe Martens said, "DEC's free fishing clinics introduce people of all ages to a great outdoor sport. By increasing the number of these popular events, even more New Yorkers and visitors will be able to enjoy their first-time fishing experience on the state's abundant waterways. I thank Governor Cuomo for signing this new law.'

New York's sport fishing industry generates an estimated $1.8 billion in economic activity annually, supporting nearly 17,000 jobs.
